Miss Malic Crossen, city.

The woodwork of the Exchange building was frequently complimented on Dedication Day by those who took the time to inspect the structure. Mr. Charles Dolliman, the contractor and builder who did the work deserves all the praise embodied in these expressions. He did his work well and displayed his proficiency in the art of woodwork. The Exchange building is a standing monument of his skill and ability. Mr. Dollman secured the contract to do the work on the reputation he brought with him to this city, having been the architect and builder of the residence of Vice-President T. A.
